

In regards to docket# 02-278 (Challenge to Indiana Telephone Privacy Law), I wish to submit that I am against any method that will enable ANY business to call me without my consent - whether or not I am a current/past/future client. Specifically, this challenge has been brought on by the Consumer Bankers Association (CBA), of which my current bank, Fifth Third, is a member.

If I sign/agree to/promote my telephone number on a DO NOT SOLICIT list, then I expect that request to be honored and not to be challenged by an organization whose only purpose is to increase their bottom line by selling me something that, in my opinion, if I needed I would have already signed-up for or otherwise.

Stop the nonsense and let us have our peace and quite during family time.
